PHOENIX, AZ – The U.S. Army Phoenix Recruiting Battalion announces that Deer Valley's Jed Dunn is the U.S. Army Coach of the Week. Dunn's Deer Valley team is 20-7 this season and is ranked 25th in the state boy's basketball poll. As a weekly winner, Dunn is a finalist for the U.S. Army Coach of the Year for Arizona.

The U.S. Army Coach of the Year campaign is designed to honor those coaches whose exceptional leadership has ensured the success of their team and whose continued dedication to their student-athletes will ensure their future success in life and athletics.

Nominations for the U.S. Army Coach of the Year will be accepted through 1:00 PM EST on Sunday. The winner will be announced on Friday.

The United States Army is charged with protecting America's freedom and preserving peace. The Army trains and equips its soldiers to be the best, especially when it comes to their job, leadership, and soldiering skills.
