The teams are labeled "Out of Towner's" because the schools are not part of the U.S. Army's Asheville Recruiting Company's area of operation, which includes the following counties in western North Carolina: Alexander; Avery; Buncombe; Caldwell; Catawba; Cherokee; Clay; Cleveland; Graham; Haywood; Henderson; Jackson; Macon; Madison; McDowell; Mitchell; Polk; Rutherford; Swain; Transylvania; Watauga; and Yancey.

During pool play, the "Out of Towner's" will compete with the teams from western North Carolina, but will the teams will compete for a separate "Out of Town" championship. As of 13 June, the NCPL now has 21 teams committed to participate in the inaugural event.

The North Carolina Passing League is a non-contact seven-on-seven high school football tournament that will feature teams from throughout the company's recruiting territory in western North Carolina. The NCPL will utilize Erwin's turf field and a secondary natural-grass playing surface to host as many as 49 games during the single-day event.

Each team will play three games in pool play to determine the seeding for the single-elimination championship round. The U.S. Army's title sponsorship of the NCPL ensures that teams will not be charged to participate in the event.

The NCPL is a traditional seven-on-seven non-contact passing league played on a shortened field with only passing plays from the line of scrimmage. The game features quarterbacks, wide receivers, running backs, and defensive backs, giving them an opportunity to sharpen their skills in a fun, competitive atmosphere.
